

How to Display a PDF File on a Web Page

- Drag the pdf to google drive. (drive.google.com)
- Then, click on the new pdf (it will usually be on the upper left in google drive), click the share icon at the top, go to advanced, then click change and make sure the "Public" radio button is clicked. Click SAVE, then click DONE.
- Now go back to google drive, click on the pdf to open it, then click the Pop-Out icon (upper right, next to the X close icon). Once the pdf is now full screen, click the : more actions icon (three vertical dots) There you will find an "Embed" opportunity.
- Click that and you get the embed code.
- Copy the embed code and paste it wherever you want.
- Note: Links in the document will work!! AND, there will be a little Pop-out icon in the upper right, upon hover, that makes the pdf full screen.
- And, you can pop it into a div if you want to put more than one on the page. Some examples are up at <http://internetpdf.com>.
- This PDF was posted using the method above.
